EXPERIENCE

Coach
deBaak & Meeting Point

📅 2013 - Ongoing

De Baak is an institute that trains highly educated people for leadership and personal development, for more than 70 years.

- Meeting Point, a youth group that I'm part of, collaborates with De Baak several times a year, and within the framework of cooperation, I get to coach and exchange experiences with people from different companies and positions. The goal of the project is to help them see their problems from different angles and eventually come up with a solution.

Researcher / Interviewer
Avance Research Agency

📅 2017 - 2018

- Avance research bureau conducts research on how children live in refugee camps.
  My job was to interview children and their parents and document their opinions on how their life could be improved in the camps.

PROJECTS

Weather API Service
📍 Amsterdam

The project was built using Ejs, CSS, JavaScript, Node.js and SQL.

- Hack Your Forecast is a free weather API service for developers. We are currently working with 9 APIs, fetch data from them and present them in JSON format. We also have a NPM package that will make the fetching process quicker for developers.
